To the Best Bits community,

In the wake of the Internet Governance Forum to be held this December in Guadalajara, Mexico, a group of ten Mexican civil society members reunited to discuss and present a common agenda against the human rights crisis in the country. These groups are within the most active when it comes to defending digital rights.

With that in mind, we decided to nominate two women that we believe would best represent our issues and concerns:

- Paulina Gutiérrez. Head of Digital & Human Rights Program at Article 19 Mexico.
- Paola Ricaurte. Academic from the Instituto Tecnológico de Monterrey.

We urge you to take these nominations into consideration, as they reflect the consensus of a large group of Mexican NGOs and academics working on the topic.

Thank you in advance,

Attentively
